Ruaidrí Ó Giolláin

Full Stack Web Developer/Designer

About me

I'm a 25 year old web developer from Ireland. I pride myself on my teamwork and eagerness to learn. I mix practicality, interactivity and art to create web applications.

Skills

As a full stack developer I have worked with both front and back end languages to design and develop professional level web applications.

HTML, CSS & Javascript
The foundation of every web application, I have spent the past 7 years working with these languages in every project I have developed. This includes frameworks such as Node.js, bootstrap, and using APIs such as Stripe

PHP
Any professional web application I have developed that requires back end coding has been written in PHP, giving me 4 years of experience with the language

MySQL
I have built all my databases using MySQL, including Well Red's

AJAX
Used in several web applications to communicate between back and front end

React
One year spent learning React for my final year of college

Java
Building Android applications using Java in Android Studio

Wireframes
I have built wireframes using Azure for 3+ years

Clients

Well Red
Transformed a small business operating out of a local shop into an online school supply business that delivers to schools and teachers all across the country.

KIT-tc
Before leaving college, started development on this consulting companies website. Once completed I was brought on as an in house IT support and maintenance employee.
